MEXICAN ARRESTED—A warrant was served yesterday evening by Constable James Murphy on Alessandro Gonzales, charged with stealing a horse from Juan Ovelas, who lives a short distance southwest of town. To square the matter all around Gonzales went to Ovelas and demanded that he pay him the money due from Wilson. When Ovelas refused Gonzales is said to have appropriated a horse to get satisfaction for the debt. The case will come up before Justice Johnstone at a later date.

SENATE WILL BE REGULAR

addition to the opening and adoption of the rules it caught up with the senate in the matter of acting on the report of the committee on committees. The senate having disposed of that matter the day before by deciding on the names and number of its committees. The house yesterday took up the report of the committee on committees which provided for twenty-three standing committees.

Mr. Lindley of Tazewell said he thought the committee on education and public institutions should be divided making a committee on each and also suggested the adding of a committee on good roads. After some discussion which brought out the fact that all were favorable to the suggestion it was so ordered, the committee on each, education and good roads, will be composed of seven members and the committee on public institutions will consist of five members. This will bring the total number of house committees up to twenty-five.

The house also adjourned to meet again at 1 o'clock today.

The senate has been utilizing the time between sessions in devising what it believes will be a perfect organization for business. This is especially true in respect of the clerical help and in that matter the senate has adopted a new practice, or rather its committees have and the senate no doubt will approve. That is what all the stenographers will be eventually placed under the direction of the chairman of the printing committee, though until he is named they will be under the direction of the secretary of the senate. The theory is that the stenographers are there to serve the whole house, not this or that committee, so the different ones will not be assigned to particular committees, but whenever a committee or a member requires a stenographer, application will be made to the chairman of the printing committee and as director of the free employment agency he will fill the order. There are now seven stenographers and if more are needed they will be secured later. It is not proposed to work one stenographer to death on a busy committee and allow others to remain idle because their particular committee is not busy.

To the many friends who kindly remembered us during the illness of our dear son and brother, Lloyd Stoner, we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks. The Stoner family.

PIONEER DIED AT SISTERS' HOSPITAL

Passing of John F. Knapp, Once An Important Figure In Arizona Affairs.

With scarcely a friend left in the place where he once was a political power, John F. Knapp passed his last days in Phoenix. The end came Tuesday night at St. Joseph's hospital, where he had been ill several weeks. The body is being held by Moore & McLellan, pending instructions from a sister in Los Angeles. John Knapp came to Arizona in 1877 as the first railroad agent at Yuma. He took an active part in politics and represented that county in the eleventh legislature, and was speaker of that body. He was later transferred to Tucson, and Pima county sent him to the twelfth legislature. He had newspaper interests in various parts of the state, and was at one time connected with the Tucson Citizen.

He has been absent from Arizona for many years, returning but a few weeks ago for the benefit of his health. He leaves besides a sister in Los Angeles a wife and daughter in Indiana. He was a member of the Masons and Knights of Pythias.
